

Short Pitch

nickbunton.com will be a website that organizes and displays all of Nick Bunton's programming projects for employers to view.

Long Pitch

nickbunton.com will be a website that organizes and displays all of Nick Bunton's programming projects for employers to view. Nick's work has included programming work in C++, HTML/CSS, JavaScript, jQuery, and PHP. This website will organize his work not only by language, but by type of work, such as internships and work done in school. There will also be a part of the website that displays contact information, current job description, social media links, and a downloadable file of his current resume.

Personas

Mark the Programmer

Recruiter/Programmer
looking for college interns for company.

Joe the researcher

Looking for new ideas
on programming
ideas

Miguel the professor

Looking to help
critique a resume